Tube feeding, also known as enteral nutrition, is a way of providing nourishment to the body when a person is unable to eat or drink, or cannot eat or drink enough. There are different types of feeding tubes that deliver nutrition directly into the stomach or small intestine.

Light Up Landmarks

Feeding Tube Awareness Week is being celebrated, 2-8 February 2025. Landmarks across Australia and New Zealand are illuminating purple and blue to help raise awareness. Why purple and blue? Purple is a common colour of feeding tube supplies and blue represents what flows through the tube, be it formula, blends, breastmilk or water.
